ARRESTED FOR SELLING LIQUOR

Dora Matlock Taken to Jail Last Night by Marshal on Bootlegging Charge.

WAS ACCUSED WITH WHITTON

Both Offenders Plead Guilty This Morning and Trial Was Set For Friday.

While Dora Matlock was enjoying freedom in the temple of justice, namely the court house, last night, mingling among the delegates, alternates, candidates, and the rabble in general, Marshal Price tapped him on the shoulder and asked him to accompany him to the jail for a night's rest. A warrant for Matlock's arrest was sworn out yesterday morning on the charge of selling intoxicating liquors without a license at the same time a warrant was made for Whitton's arrest.

The city marshal spent the day yesterday looking for Matlock, but failed to locate him until last night at the Republican city nominating convention. The same witnesses who said that Whitton had sold them whiskey also said that Matlock was in the crowd and a party to the affair.

The two men were taken before Mayor Cowing this morning and both plead guilty to the charge. The trial was set for Friday morning at nine o'clock so as to allow the State time to get their witnesses. The bond for each one of the offenders was placed at two hundred dollars. They both failed to give bond and were taken back to jail.

Matlock has a reputation for being an alleged bootlegger. He was reputed to be a part to the Taylor bootlegging case which was in the mayor's court the week of the county fair. He was arrested once by the city marshal and was set free after it was impossible to get a case against him. Shortly after he was set free he was arrested again by the sheriff and again escaped the prison bars when no case could be made against him.

HIP! HIP! THEY HAVE INDIAN PONY

Dwight and Max VanOsdol Have One Fresh From Reservation in Wisconsin.

WAR WHOOP TO BE EXPECTED

No happier children could be found in the county last evening than Dwight and Max VanOsdol, sons of Dr. D. D. VanOsdol of West Third street. The occasion of their happiness was the arrival of an Indian pony fresh from the Lav du Flambeau Indian Reservation in northern Wisconsin. It was sent by the uncle of the boys, S. B. Gary, who was visiting here two weeks ago. The pony is a sorrel, side-wheeler, which has been trained by the Indian boys of the reservation, and seems to be as tame as a kitten. It will take the boys some time to get the little animal accustomed to civilized ways and food, as it has enjoyed the freedom of the plains, and lived on whatever nature provided for it. People may expect to hear the war whoop in that part of the city at any time.

Rushville Will!

PUMPKIN KING A BUSY MAN

Will Redman's Mail Now Carries His Official Title.

Will Redman is surely some pumpkins, and he surely is getting some pumpkins, too. His mail comes addressed to Will Redman, "Pumpkin King." And Will continues to ship the pumpkins by the carload to the Van Camp Packing company in Indianapolis, and make some money on them.

DARE DEVILS BEGIN MARCH ON THE CITY

Arriving For Rushville Auto Carnival at the Fair Ground on Thursday Afternoon.

MANY PEOPLE ARE EXPECTED

Dare-devils began to drop in today. Mr. Whitlock, agent for the leading motorcycle of today, telephoned to Indianapolis and obtained the services of John Merz and John Link to ride the Thor and U. S. A. motorcycles in the race. Both men are old heads at the game and will show Rushville some exciting races.

Altogether the Auto Carnival will bring more outside people from Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Dayton, Richmond and other cities than any attraction ever drew heretofore.

HENLEY ADMITTED TO SUPREME COURT

Former Rushville Man Interested in Case Filed by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

CUTTING SWITCHING CHARGES

The Indianapolis Star had the following in the Washington, D. C., items this morning:

William J. Henley, former judge of the Appellate court of Indiana, was admitted to practice before the Supreme court of the United States today on the motion of Lloyd W. Bower, solicitor general. Mr. Henley was here to appear in the case of the Interstate Commerce Commission vs. Stickney et al., involving the validity of an order of the commission cutting in half the switching charges imposed by the Belt road of Chicago on shipments of cattle. Judge Henley resigned from the Indiana Appellate court in 1904 to become general counsel of the Chicago Terminal company, and was elected to the presidency recently.

FIRST SNOW IN THE COUNTY

Early and Late Risers Saw "Beautiful" Near Gings.

It snowed! Yes, honest it did right here in Rush county. Yesterday morning everybody, even those who stayed in bed until the sun was up, saw snow on the ground and on the houses near Gings. It was real snow and it remained in the gutters on the roofs until well up in the day.

The annual production of wool in Australia amounts to about $125,000,000.

DEAN MURDER IS AN ABSURD STORY

Young Englishman Who Made Many Friends Here Probably Left as Suddenly as he Came.

WAS A WANDERER BY NATURE

If Any Reason Could be Found For Foul Play Story Might be Given Credence.

The story to the effect that Richard Dean, the young Englishman, who came in here on a bum, has met with foul play is preposterous according to many people. The fact that his parents and even his sweetheart has written here asking about his whereabouts do not mean anything unless it is the fact that it is the first time they have ever received any trace of him since he left his home back in Liverpool, England.

Young Dean came into this city a full fledged tramp and loafed several days looking around for employment. He was finally taken in by a man who listened to his pleadings and given a position at the water and light plant. He worked several days and seemed to be a very bright young man. He was a hard worker and made friends wherever he went.

One day he was missing and to this day has never been seen by anyone of his old friends whom he made here. In all human probability he left Rushville the same way he came in—on a box car. Although he may have been an exemplary young man and one whom more could be expected than of an ordinary tramp, it is the logical conclusion that if he had taken up the life of a wanderer, he would naturally follow that life after having become attached to it.

It is said that he left the city owing several small debts and this alone may have some bearing on his sudden departure. If any reason could be unearthed for his murder and the following hiding away of his dead body, the story might be given some credence. He had no fortune which he carried around in his "sac" and he had no enemies, at least he never made it known to any of his suddenly-made friends here.

The unearthing of the supposed grave in the old Concord graveyard Monday and the subsequent downfall of another one of Bill Pea's clews only added to the absurdity of the story. It is very probable that Dean left in the manner in which he came and his friends here who mourn his loss may have their place filled by more short-order friends in another city.

TICKET LOOKS LIKE A WINNER

Republicans Choose John M. Stevens to Make Race For Mayor in City Campaign.

FLINT TAKES CLERK FIGHT

M. V. Spivey Nominated For Treasurer—Strong Resolutions Receive Hearty Approval.

THE TICKET.

Mayor—John M. Stevens.
Clerk—Herbert C. Flint.
Treasurer—Martin V. Spivey.
COUNCILMEN-AT-LARGE.

Willard H. Amos.
Dr. J. B. Kinsinger.
COUNCILMEN.

First Ward—George F. Moore.
Second Ward—Thomas Geraghty, Sr.
Third Ward—Alvah Newhouse.

There was just enough spice in the Republican city convention last night to make it interesting, and as a result there was an abundance of good feeling shown and interest taken in the fights for the various offices. Every delegate and every candidate defeated or otherwise, went away a better Republican than when he went. The resolutions adopted stirred the convention and brought forth more enthusiasm than any other thing at the convention, and that is saying a great deal. And by the way the voter will sit up and take notice when he reads those resolutions and sees just exactly what the present Republican administration has done.

Will L. King was the permanent chairman of the meeting, and Birney Spradling was the permanent secretary. The meeting was called to order by E. W. Ball, city chairman. The wards organized by naming A. L. Riggs chairman of the First; R. F. Scudder of the Second, and John P. Frazee of the Third.

John M. Stevens was nominated for mayor from the Second ward and W. O. Headlee from the First. Mr. Stevens received 42 votes against Mr. Headlee's 31 and was declared the nominee of the convention.

The vote by wards was as follows:

	St.	H.
First Ward	14	10
Second Ward	11	7
Third Ward	17	14
Total	42	31

Mr. Stevens was called and thanked the convention for the honor of heading the ticket and felt confident that he would be elected if the Republicans showed as much enthusiasm in the campaign as they did in the convention. Mr. Headlee was also called and thanked the delegates for their support and hoped for the success of the ticket.

Two ballots were required for city clerk, Herbert C. Flint receiving a majority on the second.

The vote for clerk on the first ballot was:

	Fl.	A.	Gr.
First Ward	14	2	8
Second Ward	7	5	6
Third Ward	12	8	9
Totals	43	6	24

The second ballot resulted as follows:

	Fl.	A.	Gr.
First Ward	16	1	7
Second Ward	8	3	7
Third Ward	19	2	10
Totals	35	15	23

Mr. Flint thanked the convention

INSTALLED NEW ORGAN

Musical Instrument Placed in Kramer Skating Rink Today.

Harry Kramer installed a new organ in his skating rink today which can be used not only to furnish music for skaters but also may be used for dances. The instrument is half the strength of a full band and is run by electricity. It can be regulated to run fast or slow and promises to add much to the pleasure of skating during the winter months. Mr. Kramer has purchased several new and up-to-date song hits which he will use on the organ.

MESSAGE REPORTS LOVED ONES SAFE

Mrs. Gilbert Meredith Receives Telegram From Her Husband in Storm Swept Florida.

RELIEVED OF GREAT ANXIETY

Mrs. Gilbert Meredith received a telegram this afternoon from her husband in Florida, stating that a severe hurricane had passed their way, but that both he and his son Tom were perfectly safe. This served to relieve Mrs. Meredith greatly as she has been on a strain for many hours with the fear staring her in the face that her husband and son had either been injured or perhaps killed. Other residents of this city are in the storm swept district. Sam Herkless was on the island with Gilbert Meredith, but Orville and A. R. Herkless were in Miami, Florida, which was not effected much by the storm.

ED STEVENS DIED EARLY THIS MORNING

Death Was Due to Gangrene of the Bowels, Following Appendicitis Operation.

OCCURRED IN THE SANITARIUM

Ed Stevens died in the Sexton sanitarium this morning at seven o'clock of gangrene of the bowels, following an operation for appendicitis. The operation was performed one week ago last Tuesday and not much hope had been entertained for his recovery since that time. He suffered a severe attack of the disease for which he was operated on early last spring and was then urged to have the operation performed.

The deceased was about fifty-three years old and had been a bartender here for a number of years. He worked in the Sullivan saloon and later in the Thompson saloon. No living relative of Mr. Stevens can be found and for this reason no funeral arrangements have been made. He was a member of the Anderson acie of Eagles where he came from here. The body was removed to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Moore in North Perkins street this afternoon.

POSTPONE RACES AGAIN.

The Shelbyville Racing Association again decided to postpone their races, which were put off a day later this week on account of the rains. The races will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday, weather permitting.

The life of an eight-inch gun is about two hundred rounds.

SALE OF LOTS IS COMING GOOD

Have You Bought One and Are You Wearing That Pretty Little Button?

GEE, IT IS GREAT BUSINESS

Get Down to Y. M. C. C. Headquarters and Get in the Rush! Be a Booster!

Have you bought your lot yet? And are you wearing your button?

The promoters are just beginning to hit the stride now and they feel that the success of the sale is assured. The first day's work was hindered considerably by the bad weather and the fact that many people did not come to headquarters who would have come otherwise. But in spite of the bad weather the promoters are encouraged and believe that the success of the sale is now assured. They had intended to publish a list of the names this afternoon, but decided to wait until tomorrow in order to let many more persons in on the first honor roll.

They expect to have a large list of names for tomorrow and are anxious that it be even larger than they are expecting. The noticeable thing about the sale is that those who have bought are bringing others to headquarters. One man said this morning that he intended to buy a lot, but would wait a while. After he was told that it was important that as many as possible be taken on the first few days he went down and signed the subscription blank. Many have been holding off who expect to buy and they are urged to get into the game at once and get their names on the first honor roll.

Don't buy a lot merely to help the movement along, but as a good investment. Investigate for yourself and if you don't think you will make money on the investment, why then buy one for the good of the cause. But you will not need to offer the latter reason for the purchase. Go down to headquarters this very evening and close this thing up and let's get it over with. Great chance here to make this a record lot sale in the State. And Rushville will.

PIRATES WIN BY SCORE BY 8 TO 4

Pittsburg Takes Fifth Game of the Series From Tigers While the Fans Shiver.

GAME TOMORROW AT DETROIT

Pittsburg copped the fifth game of the world's series this afternoon at Pittsburg. The score was 8 to 4 in favor of the Pirates. This gives Pittsburg three games and Detroit two. Big Bill Donovan was on the slab for the Tigers and Adams did the pitching for the Pirates. Tomorrow's game will be played at Detroit and if Pittsburg wins, they win the world's series. However, there are many local followers who are confident that Detroit will take the next two straight. The weather at Pittsburg was very cold this afternoon.

INDIANAPOLIS NEWS WINS OUT

Judge Anderson, of the Federal Court at Indianapolis, Says Owners of News Shall Not Be Taken to Washington to Answer Charge of Libel Brought by Government in Connection With Panama Canal Publication—Government's Agent Says Editors May Be Nabbed If They Ever Go to Washington.

Indianapolis, Oct. 13.—In the federal court yesterday, Judge Anderson denied the right of the government to remove Delavan Smith and Charles R. Williams, owners of the Indianapolis News, to the District of Columbia to answer charges of criminal libel preferred to an indictment found by the grand jury at Washington. In a verbal opinion delivered immediately at the conclusion of the argument by District Attorney Miller on the merits of the government's contention that the two defendants should be required to appear at Washington, the court summarily announced that Messrs. Smith and Williams would be discharged.

The alleged libelous articles were found in certain stories and editorials published in the News concerning the purchase of the Panama canal from the French government. The articles printed were to the effect that a syndicate had purchased the canal for $12,000,000 and sold it to the government for $40,000,000. Those who alleged they had been libeled were Chas. P. Taft, Theodore Roosevelt, Douglas Robinson, William Nelson Cromwell and others.

Stuart McNamara, assistant United States attorney general, who represented the department of justice in the prosecution of the case, stated that he could not tell what action, if any, will be taken in Washington so far as serving the papers on the two defendants should they appear in the District of Columbia.

"Could these papers be served on Messrs. Smith and Williams if they were to appear in Washington?" he was asked.

"They could," he answered.

On Friday the president will proceed in his special train leisurely to Juarez to be ready to meet President Taft the next day.

THE NEW CHINA

Ancient Despotism Government Practically Ceased Today.

Mukden, Oct. 13.—The ancient despotic government of China terminated today. All the legislatures of the self-governing provinces throughout the empire are today holding their first meetings preparatory to the drafting of a constitution for the empire. Each province will be represented in the imperial assembly that will draft the constitution with fifty members publicly elected.

Wanted at Fort Wayne.

Indianapolis, Oct. 13.—A requisition has been issued in the governor's office for the arrest and return of A. H. Coleman, now in New York, who is wanted in Fort Wayne for forgery. The complaint on which the requisition was issued was signed by William H. Knapp, a proprietor of a hotel in that city. Coleman is a traveling salesman and is charged with presenting a forged check for $15, which Mr. Knapp cashed.

Remains a Mystery.

Tiverton, R. I., Oct. 13.—Although added evidence of the fact that a murder had been committed was found through the discovery of the torso of the young woman whose legs were found in the underbrush adjoining Bulgermarsh road, the police are still without a clue as to the identity of the victim or of those responsible for the murder.

Raid on the Jamaica Track.

New York, Oct. 13.—A fresh chapter in Governor Hughes' anti-racetrack gambling crusade, which resulted recently in indictments against the Brooklyn Jockey club and the Coney Island Jockey club, resulted yesterday in twelve arrests at the Jamaica track.

David Belasco, the playwright, who has been seriously ill with pneumonia, is declared out of danger.

SOLDIERS ON GUARD

Key West Closely Patrolled to Prevent Work of Looters.

Key West, Fla., Oct. 13.—Martial law is in force and the streets constantly patrolled. A semblance of order has been instructed to shoot persons caught looting, a semblance of order has been restored and the people are beginning to count up the losses inflicted by the West Indian hurricane, which prevailed in the city for nearly a day at a velocity of eighty-five miles an hour. The most conservative estimates place the property loss at $3,000,000. So far as known, only one person was killed in Key West, but scores were more or less seriously injured by flying debris.

Nine large cigar factories, two fire stations, five churches and blocks of residences and stores were totally destroyed. Many of the vessels which had been swept from their moorings during the blow managed to ride out the storm and limped back to their piers, but between sixty and seventy boats of all kinds were wrecked.

The jail is filled to overflowing with vandals who were captured by the militia and police. Thieves began operations as soon as the fury of the storm had abated, the wreckage of the electric light plant having plunged the city in darkness. The mayor took stringent measures to cope with the situation and proclaimed martial law. The Key West Guards were called out and patrolled the streets.

Hundreds are homeless and are being cared for in church buildings, schools and other structures which escaped the storm.

The Florida East Coast Railway extension steamer Phil Shekel has arrived here from Sugar Loaf, bringing the first direct news from the thousands of men employed on the extension, concerning whom there was grave apprehension. The camps at Boca Chica and Sugar Loaf were destroyed and the grade for thirty miles above Stock Island is badly damaged, but there has been no loss of life along the line.

First Reports Exaggerated.

Havana, Oct. 13.—The effects of the cyclone appear to have been considerably less serious than at first supposed. The sugar cane is in fine condition everywhere. No extraordinary damage is reported. The Isle of Pines, which it was feared was devastated, escaped the storm. No fatalities are reported from the interior. Apparently the brunt of the storm was borne by Havana city, and careful estimates indicate that the loss will not exceed $500,000.

THE TOWNSPEOPLE TRUSTED THE BANK

Mineral Point Not Prepared for Big Crash.

Mineral Point, Wis., Oct. 13.—In the First National bank failure here a more serious aspect has developed, it being reported that the shortage, instead of $200,000, as first estimated, will run close to $400,000. Vice President Allen is said to have lost heavily in California and Montana mining investments. Worthless notes have been pouring into the bank and widows and orphans were hard hit.

Mr. Allen, a pillar in the church, a Sunday school superintendent, who sometimes occupied the pulpit, was implicitly trusted. The value of the securities which he has turned over to the bank has not been ascertained, but much western mining stock in the collection is said to be worthless.

Bank Examiner Goodhart has worked over the bank's books, practically completing his work, so that everything will be in readiness for the receiver. He was assisted by Cashier Harrison, a brother-in-law of Vice President Phil Allen, Jr., whose alleged misuse of bank funds in furthering his private enterprises is admitted by all concerned to have brought on the failure of the bank.

Mr. Allen, for years a victim of palsy, is seriously ill at his home, unable to see visitors. The shock of the discovery of his alleged financial irregularities aggravated the old malady and his condition is said to be precarious. The city is noticeably quiet in the face of a calamity which affects a large proportion of the community.

Mineral Point is the third oldest city in the state, and practically all of its 3,000 inhabitants are of American birth. Reporters talking with many persons did not hear a harsh word spoken of the stricken vice president.

This bank was regarded as a financial Gibraltar. So firm was this belief that when reports of trouble began spreading a week ago, there was no run on the bank. Even when news of the shortage was known to many depositors last Friday, only $16,000 was withdrawn. It is said that more than this sum was deposited from other sources. It seemed past belief to a majority of depositors that anything could be really wrong with the First National bank.

CGUNTY NEWS

Manilla.

Rev. Morrow preached at the Methodist church Sunday morning.

John Rhodes of Greensburg was in Manilla last Saturday.

Fay Edwards is still very poorly from the effects of typhoid fever, which she has suffered with for the past four weeks. Her condition is still critical.

Lon Mull was at Greensburg last Saturday on business.

Flo Robinson the ten-year-old daughter of A. M. Robinson was painfully burned last Sunday while lighting the gas in a stove. Her hair was burned off and about the face she was slightly burned. While she had a narrow escape and her face and neck pains her severely she is not considered seriously injured and will not be disfigured.

Emery J. Plummer of Robinson, Ill., is here. He was called by the sickness of his aunt Mrs. J. A. English.

Preparations are being made by F. A. Mull to erect a new business block on Main street, the site of the C. M. Taylor store which burned last year. The building will be a modern brick and cement one, and will contain four business rooms, which we learn will be occupied immediately upon completion. It is hoped by many of our citizens that he will build a two story structure and give us a suitable opera house. Manilla is quite a show town and a nice opera house would be an incentive toward getting some creditable companies to include us in their routes.

Quite a large amount of gravel has been distributed on the roads this season, due to the assiduity of our competent supervisor, G. W. Westfield. Wash seems to be the right man in the right place and his reelection is a foregone conclusion if he will accept the position again.

Miss Tida Plummer came Sunday from her home in VanBuren, Ind., in response to a telegram announcing the serious illness of Mrs. J. A. English.

Eson Robinson severely sprained his ankle last Friday evening while playing basket ball at the school grounds. The injury is so serious that he is compelled to use crutches in walking.

Michael Hertzell, who has heretofore been reported in a serious condition from blood poison, is no better. His recovery is considered doubtful. Mrs. Mary Henry, a relative, of Shelbyville, visited him the latter part of the week.

Scott Winkinson, agent and operator of this place, has been on the sick list for the past few days. His place has been filled for the past few days by an extra man.

Postmaster Haehl substituted for Rural Carrier Webb last week, while he took a few days' vacation.

The Ladies Industrial society conducted a "Food Exchange" in the Smith building last Saturday.

Quite a crowd listened to the band at last Saturday evening's concert. The band gives a weekly outdoor concert and is successful in getting a crowd in town Saturday evenings.

Harry Shinn formerly P. C. C. & St. L. agent at this place, but for the past year of Indianapolis, visited his little son, and other relatives and friends here last week. He will go to Pittsburg, Pa., where he has accepted a position.

The Shelbyville Democrat states that Hershell Miller of this place has left town since the accident in which Dale Brooks and himself were interested and the former injured occurred. Quite a sensation was created through the Shelbyville papers concerning the incident in which enmity, love and jealousy seemed to play its respective part. We are not informed as to the real facts in the case and only mention this from hearsay.

Mrs. Alex English still remains very low at this writing. She was thought to be dying Saturday forenoon, but rallied slightly and at this writing is still alive, but hopes for her recovery are not entertained.

Prof. H. W. Clawson went to Rushville Saturday on business. He did not return until late as the train was belated on account of a wreck at the C. H. & D. crossing at Rushville, caused by the collision of two freight trains. No one was injured.

The Shelbyville races are of this week and are being well patronized. Some good purses are offered and will bring many good horses. Shelbyville is always a good town to get a crowd, when it gets down to real business and this occasion will be no exception.

The first number of the lecture course will be held Tuesday October 19th. It will be a lecture we understand by Prof. Shaw. We did not learn the subject of his discourse.

Rev. Jinnett and wife and Mrs. Clyde Whisman, Mrs. Emma Talbott and Misses Lucy Inlow and Belle Bebout left Sunday for Pittsburg, Pa., to attend the celebration of the centennial of the Christian church which is to be held in that city.

A BRIGHT CHAPTER IN BASEBALL ANNALS

What Mullin Did to Pirates Was Plenty.

Detroit, Oct. 13.—By a score of 5 to 0, Detroit defeated Pittsburg Tuesday and evened up the count in the world's series, each now having two victories to its credit. The game was played with the mercury at 34 degrees above zero, but 17,036 persons braved the chilling temperature and freezing blasts, and the great majority of them felt well repaid for their polar experiences, because they were with Detroit.

The American League champions outclassed their rivals in every department of the game, and the pitching of George Mullin will make one of the brightest hits in the baseball history of Detroit. It is hard to conceive of any pitcher having his opponents more at his mercy than Mullin had Pittsburg. There was never a moment when he was not the absolute master of the situation, and he was at his best with men on the bases. Four hits represented the ability of the visitors, and no two of these were made in the same inning.

Mullin performed a feat in the third inning that will live long in the annals of baseball and was frozen on the minds of those who saw it. In the third inning he struck out the mighty Wagner, with two out and men on second and third. That was a mighty feat, but just previously he had struck out Manager Clarke, a hard hitter, with men on first and second. A double steal on Clarke's third strike moved the men to second and third, where they were when Wagner came to bat. Liefeld was also a victim on strikes in the third inning, giving Mullin three strike-outs in one session. All told he struck out the visitors ten times.

The victory of Detroit has toppled Pittsburg from its position as favorite in the betting and even money is now being offered. The teams left for Pittsburg last night and the fifth game will be played at Forbes Field today. The scene will then shift back to this city, where the sixth game is scheduled for Thursday.

PROFIT BY OTHERS' EXPERIENCE

Gray Hair Restored

My hair was getting quite gray and falling out rapidly and I was troubled with a terrible itching of the scalp. My head was full of dandruff, which fell upon my clothes and kept me continually brushing it off. While on a visit to Rochester I heard of your Sage and Sulphur for the hair. I got a bottle and used it. A few applications relieved the itching, my hair stopped falling out and gradually came back to its natural color. It is now a nice dark brown color, soft, glossy and pliable. Several of my friends want to use it, and I want to know what you will charge me for six bottles of it.

Grew Hair on a Bald Head

For two or three years my hair had been falling out and getting quite thin until the top of my head was entirely bald. About four months ago I commenced using Sage and Sulphur. The first bottle seemed to do some good and I kept using it regularly until now I have used four bottles. The whole top of my head is fairly covered and keeps coming in thicker. I shall keep on using it a while longer, as I notice a constant improvement.

Reports on Factories

The following are the reports of the committees of the Y.M.C. C. read at the mass meeting of citizens at the court house Monday evening on the kitchen cabinet factory. The committee composed of John A. Demmer, Fred A. Caldwell, and A. L. Winship reported as follows:

To the Young Men's Commercial Club, Rushville, Ind.:

Gentlemen—We, your committee appointed by the Young Men's Commercial Club to investigate the kitchen cabinet company's plant in a nearby city found this company manufacturing kitchen cabinets to be in a crowded condition. They make a medium-priced kitchen cabinet and are now running about 19 men with an average pay roll of $11 per week each and with fine prospects for increasing capacity, output and force. This is a young firm. It has been in business only three years. It has a present investment of about $30,000. The members of the firm are highly regarded as business men of sterling reputation in the city where they are operating. One of the members of the firm is the publisher of a first-class daily newspaper. The other was recorder of Cass county. Your committee made a thorough investigation of their factory and found it to be up-to-date in processes and with a splendid equipment of machinery.

After a careful investigation of the business qualifications of the men managing the business, we believe it will be only a few years until this plant will be one of Rushville's largest industries, as their growth heretofore has been a safe, steady and sure one. The cabinet they manufacture is not one of the highest grades, nor is it one of the cheap grade. It is such as will commend itself to the average family needing a kitchen cabinet. The proprietors after enlarging will make some cabinets of a higher grade which they have designed.

Your committee made a proposition to furnish them with the Warfield & Wilson building. We agreed to build an addition more than doubling the present floor space. The improvements were to cost about $8000. The Y. M. C. C. agreed that our citizens would pay $5000 of this and the Kitchen Cabinet company agreed to pay the balance. The cabinet company furthermore agrees to remain in Rushville until they have paid out in wages $100,000. They are not to receive a deed for the Warfield & Wilson building and ground until they have altogether complied with the conditions of this contract. Meantime they are to pay the insurance upon the buildings and to pay taxes.

Following is the report of the committee on the Malleable Iron Works:

The Malleable iron plant that we can secure is now situated in Rhode Island and has been in business in one locality since 1865. The plant is incorporated for $100,000 and this was all paid in. They have always done a prosperous business and have never been in any difficulty. The stockholders are all men of means and high financial standing and, from the trade and inquiries we have made we find they enjoy the highest credit and are estimated worth fully $100,000 with credit in proportion. The reason for their moving is that they are enjoying a large western business and can get coal here for $1.25 per ton delivered, where they are now paying $4.25 per ton delivered. They have been doing a large malleable iron business, but when they move west they are going to arrange to finish their product as they are large manufacturers of unions for water pipes and make this a specialty. They can sell, when they are in position to do so, the contract for all their product for 1910. By locating in the west they can meet all competition and can find a market for all they can turn out.

They are to be incorporated for $100,000 as follows: $30,000 preferred stock and $70,000 common stock under the Indiana laws. They are to put $70,000 into business and the Y. M. C. C. will subscribe for $30,000 preferred stock at par, pay six per cent interest. They agree to expend $300,000 as good faith before the deed to the property is transferred to them. The plant is now employing 175 in help and when they come here they are arranging to double this number. Your committee feels in securing this concern it will be in time one of the leading industries of the west and one that any city or town should be proud of.

The committee appointed to investigate the air pump plant, reported as follows:

A factory committee, composed of W. H. Ogan, Albert Winship, Howard Mullin, John Demmer and Will O. Feudner went to Indianapolis to look over the proposition of the Pump company to their locating here. The committee was met by the president and secretary at their offices.

They said their reason for wanting to move was that they were crowded in their present quarters and at a meeting of the board of directors it was decided to move on January first into a building of their own or one that could be rented that would be suitable for their plant. Their business has increased in the past four years so that they have had to move three times. A report of their business ending August 31 shows that the company was about $45,000 to the good counting their accounts receivable from municipal and government contracts. They have just completed designing and improving a compound air pump for which they have great hopes and which they intend to push now. The outlook for this pump is very good. Our city water plant is using three of their pumps now, and Innis-Pearce company have one of their pumps at their ice plant. Fort Benjamin Harrison and the Soldiers' Home at Dayton are some of the recent government contracts of the company. They say the government is now specifying their pumps in their contracts for water lifting. The company now employs 26 hands and their intention is to be working 40 to 50 men in six months or a year. With their bright future they have a possibility of 100 men in two years or so—all high class mechanics earning 30 to 34 cents an hour.

Their proposition is to move to Rushville and erect a building 40x150 to start with and have all their iron casting done here. They ask us to subscribe $25,000 of their preferred stock drawing six per cent interest with the option of retiring this stock as soon as they possibly can. They are to be given a deed to the site after they have spent $250,000 in wages in Rushville. From all sources possible the committee learned that the gentlemen connected with the company were highly spoken of, socially and otherwise, and quite a number of our best people are well acquainted with the president and secretary of the company and they say they will make very desirable citizens. The secretary has already been here and secured an option on property.

The company intends to come here free from all debt and at no time has this company been in any stock manipulations as they started with virtually nothing and have kept all their earnings in the business.

Lightning makes trees explode like overcharged boilers. The flames of the lightning does not burn them up, nor does the electric flash split them into all the damp interstices of the trunk and into the hollows under its bark. All the moisture at once is turned into steam, which by its immediate explosion rips open the tree. For centuries this simple theory puzzled scientists, but they have got it right at last.

Germany has a firm of match manufacturers which has hit on a means whereby the public will pay only half the present heavy statutory tax on matches. The method is to have the combustible properties at each end of the match, by which one box goes as far as two.

GOMPERS' RECEPTION

Labor Leader Receives a Notable Welcome Upon His Return.

Washington, Oct. 13.—Representing many parts of this country, Canada and even Cuba, organized labor paid a notable tribute last night in this city to the homecoming from Europe of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who arrived early last evening from New York. The celebration in honor of his return, after an absence of several months, was probably the most enthusiastic demonstration ever accorded an American labor leader.

The occasion was featured by a monster parade, followed later by a big mass meeting at Convention hall. Estimates of enthusiasts as to the number of men and women who participated in the parade ran as high as 20,000.

Pennsylvania avenue from First street to Fifteenth and G streets was thronged with thousands of enthusiastic spectators. With thousands of the marchers carrying torches, with handsomely decorated floats, representing labor bodies, and the waving of innumerable American flags, the scene presented was picturesque. After the parade came the mass meeting in Convention hall. On the platform, in addition to Mr. Gompers and delegates from labor organizations from all parts of the country and others, were John Mitchell, former president of the United Mine Workers, and Senator Owen of Oklahoma.

An incident in connection with the parade which occasioned considerable discussion and comment, was the action of President Gompers in refusing to allow a company of the national guard of the District of Columbia to participate.

Says Eskimos Trew Their Inquisition Off.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 13.—"It is the same old story," said Dr. Cook, when he was shown the statement issued by Commander Peary, together with the map accompanying it.

"I have replied to the points raised a dozen times," he continued. "The map published by Commander Peary in itself indicates that the Eskimos have respected their promise made to me, and that they would not give any information to Peary or his men."

"Mr. Whitney has said that during the cross-examination conducted by Commander Peary and others of his expedition, the Eskimos did not understand the questions put to them or the map which was laid before them. Their replies to the questions put have been twisted to suit a perverted interest."

"I will not enter into any argument about the matter, but I will bring the Eskimos to New York at my own expense and they will prove, as did Mr. Whitney, all that I have claimed."

The doctor continued:

"Rasmussen, who will be here shortly, has seen the Eskimos and knows the real story. They did not try to deceive him. He was with them for fourteen days. They know him and told him everything. He speaks the Eskimo language, for he is a semi-Eskimo himself and the people have the most complete confidence in him. That is all I have to say now."

Scene of Turmoil in Rome.

Rome, Oct. 13.—Over 20,000 persons attended a mass meeting in the Piazza de Campo to protest against the sentence of death pronounced against Prof. Francisco Ferrer, the noted Spanish anarchist, at Barcelona. Violent speeches hostile to Spain and the vatican were made. The meeting ended calmly, but when the mob attempted to cross the bridges toward the center of the city, cavalry blocked their way.

We Do House Painting

Our workmen are all old, experienced and reliable mechanics, and all our materials are fully guaranteed, so we CAN and DO guarantee all our work.

Why We Advocate Fall Painting

Because in the fall the weather is more uniformly warm and sunny and more settled.
Because in the fall paint can be more successfully applied than in damp, cloudy or unsettled weather.
Because in the fall there are usually no dust-laden, insect carrying winds.
Because in the fall the wood is dry and the paint penetrates deeper, securing a firmer hold on it.
Because in the fall a paint application dries harder, more naturally and consequently will wear longer.

CHAPTER VIII.

SOMMERS TAKES THE LEAD.

GIRLS who grow up around the steel works do not develop into the fainting kind. Lucy did not shriek nor even cry out loud. Instead she rushed to her lover, put her arms about him and helped to hold him up, begging tenderly:

"Joe, is it bad? How did it happen?"

The blood was streaming over the man's face, and only his great courage kept him up as, resting in her arms, he gasped out the story.

"Smith—he hit me with a hammer when I wasn't looking—he got me. But don't mind me—I'm—all right. Find Sommers."

"Sommers?" the girl asked, surprised. She could not imagine what Sommers had to do with it.

"Yes," he insisted, "find Sommers. There's something crooked going on. I must get Sommers quick. They hit me because I'm on the level, and

"Telephone!" he commanded. "There it is. Phone Sommers."

Smith didn't want me around. Find Sommers, Lucy—you must find Sommers!"

The girl looked about her blankly. How was she going to find Sommers? And, then, she didn't really care whether she found him or not. Sommers, the gun, everything was secondary to her now, with Joe O'Leary here, maybe dying. But O'Leary had commanded her, and the habit of obedience was strong.

"Where is Sommers, Joe?" she asked. "I don't want to leave you this way. I can't find Sommers."

But the practical assistant foreman, injured though he was, knew what to do.

"There it is. Phone Sommers. Try the Durants. Maybe he is there. Hurry! That's the private one to the house. Tell Sommers to come at once."

Reassured now that she did not have to leave him to do his bidding, the girl ran to the private phone. She rang the bell wildly, half crying into the receiver:

"Hello! Is Mr. Sommers there?"—then her face went blank. "He ain't?" she gasped, then turned from the phone to cry to O'Leary. "Oh, Joe, he ain't there!"

The strength of the bleeding man was going fast, but grim determination to do the right thing kept him up. "Find out where he is and get him," he commanded.

The girl turned back to the phone, and her voice brightened as she recognized the person at the other end of the wire.

"Oh, is that you, Miss Frances?" she cried. "This is Lucy Smith. Yes, ma'am, I'm at the works. There's been trouble here, and Mr. Sommers must come right away. There's something wrong with the Sommers gun. What? You say come up to your house?"

She looked away from the phone a moment pitifully toward her injured sweetheart, then turned back to the receiver in response to Frances Durant's sharp, anxious command.

"Yes, ma'am. O'Leary made me phone. I want to warn Mr. Sommers. They're trying to spoil his gun. No, ma'am. It ain't sure. We suspect."

Again she hesitated, looking pitifully at her own wounded lover. How could she leave him merely to save the lover of the other woman? But discipline is strong about a steel works, and Frances Durant was the daughter of the owner. So poor little Lucy had no alternative but to obey.

"Yes, ma'am," she shouted into the receiver. "I'll come if you wish. I'll get there in five minutes. I'll run. Yes, ma'am, I'll run. Goodbye!"

She hung up the receiver, then hurried over to O'Leary. He sank forward in his chair and rested now partly on the desk before it. The girl put her arms about him.

"Oh, I can't leave you if you are hurt bad, dear!" she half sobbed. With all the strength he could command O'Leary caught her arm.

"Don't trouble about me. Hurry over and do what Miss Frances tells you and don't tell any one else."

Still the girl hesitated, but just then Marsh entered the office from the works.

"Marsh will take care of me," gasped O'Leary. "Hurry! Do as I told you."

Reluctantly Lucy ran out of the office as the head draughtsman came over to the injured man.

"What's happened, O'Leary?"

The assistant foreman was almost too weak from the shock and loss of blood to reply, but he managed to gasp out faintly:

"Smith cracked me with a hamme when I wasn't looking. He's fighting drunk. Mr. Marsh, and ruining the Sommers gun."

Marsh, experienced about the works, was examining O'Leary's wounded head with almost professional skill. "You've got a bad rap, boy. We must rush you to the doctor."

He stepped to the door leading into the works and yelled for two men, then came back to do what he could. Pinckney had almost at the same moment returned from his private office.

"What's this?" he exclaimed as he saw the bloody O'Leary half lying across an office table.

The workman, injured though he was, still held to his grim determination to get justice for Sommers. At Pinckney's question he half raised himself on the table.

"It's Smith, sir," he said to the general manager. "He's leaving that gun too long in the furnace. I kicked, and he hit me when my back was turned. I'll fix him."

Pinckney looked at the bloody man coldly.

"You ought to have more sense than to kick," he said. "Smith is in charge of that job. He's responsible. It's none of your business. You ought to have kept your head shut."

O'Leary stared at the manager, too amazed to retort. He was still half dazed from the terrific blow he had received or his suspicions would have been immediately aroused. The two men had entered from the works and stood ready. They knew just what to do.

"Here," ordered Pinckney, "take this fellow across to the doctor quick. Tell him it's a work case."

The two men seized O'Leary, picked him up in their arms and hurried with him out of the office.

Marsh turned to the general manager.

"We've got to stop this, Mr. Pinckney," he exclaimed. "Smith is fighting drunk."

Pinckney nodded carelessly. "Oh, yes, I understand, but I'll see to Smith. There's something more important on now. I've just got a wire from my agent in Washington."

"About my gun?" asked Marsh anxiously.

"About the Rhinestrom gun," came Pinckney's cold correction.

The head draughtsman nodded acquiescence.

"Yes, that's what I mean," he agreed. Pinckney took a telegram out of his pocket.

"Well, there's all sorts of trouble in Washington," he explained. "Tomorrow they'll notify us not to begin on the Rhinestrom order until the Sommers gun is tested."

"What of that?" asked Marsh blankly. "It only means a slight delay."

Pinckney made an impatient gesture. "Slight delay, nothing! Haven't you sense enough to see it's a game of this toy sailor, Sommers? They'll countermand the order for our gun after they test his just as sure as fate."

Marsh dropped into a chair dejectedly.

"Just my luck!" he exclaimed in distress. "That's the end of my royalty. I might have known. It always happens that way with me. I never have any luck."

Pinckney stood looking, a sneering smile on his face.

"That's it," he said contemptuously. "Lay down. That's the reason your luck is always bad and always will be bad. A quitter can't have any luck. How do you expect to have anything if you drop at the first ditch?"

The inventor looked up, puzzled. "What can I do?" he asked.

Pinckney smiled pityingly on him. "What can you do? Haven't you sense enough to guess? Here—he stepped closer to the inventor to speak in a lower, firmer tone—"this dirty, tricky sailor has got the best of us in Washington, but with Smith drunk I guess we've got the best of him here."

Marsh looked up, startled, amazed. Some slight hint of what Pinckney intended began to dawn on him.

"What do you mean?" he asked slowly in an almost dazed tone.

The general manager looked at him sharply.

"What time did you say Sommers would get here?"

"One-thirty," replied Marsh.

Pinckney's laugh was rich with confident relief.

"Well, there's lots of time. It isn't 12 yet," he chuckled.

On Marsh's face had come an expression of horror. He knew now what the general manager intended to do. It made him sick to think of it, for Marsh was honest at heart. Only he was an inventor. He loved his work. It was his chance of a lifetime. And, then, he was weak.

"You mean you will ruin his gun?" he half whispered faintly.

The brutal laugh of the other man was answer enough.

"Shut up!" he sneered. "Don't talk as if it was murder. If you're going to get on in this world, Marsh, you must learn there's as much in blocking the other fellow's game as there is in playing your own."

His latent sense of honesty made one last sickening revolt as Marsh started up from his chair, exclaiming wildly:

"It's awful! I won't be a party to any such thing as that, Mr. Pinckney." With all his superior physical and mental strength Pinckney seized the weaker man and pushed him back in his chair.

"Don't be a fool, Marsh," he explained, shaking his shoulder fiercely. "You know if we get this order from Washington it means an independent fortune for you. Don't you know that?"

The force of the other stronger personality reacted on the weaker man.

"Yes, sir; you say so," he said.

Pinckney went on more earnestly, driving his points home with all the power of his stropg will.

"Think what it means, Marsh. It means the end of this slavery, day after day, at the works. It means you'll have time to work on your inventions." (To be continued.)

When the Root Juice people were here hundreds of people flocked to the drug store to see them and get some of the great remedy, and after they left the great sale of the remedy continued because of the many remarkable cures it made. Many names of people living in this locality who were cured by taking a few bottles of Root Juice were published in this paper. The remedy is such a health-promoting agent that it creates great excitement in every city in which it is introduced. Mr. Albert Timlick, of Cantrell, Ill., wrote and said: "For a number of years I suffered with a severe stomach trouble and tried many kinds of medicine but none did me any good. I was almost dead when I started on my first bottle of Root Juice, but as I took three or four doses I began to feel better. Four bottles of the Juice made a complete cure of my troubles. I now have a good appetite and can eat anything I want. Before I took Root Juice I could not digest the lightest food. It would sour on my stomach and I would bloat fearfully. I digest every-thing I eat now. It has certainly worked wonders for me."

Root Juice is a great healing tonic to the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys. It is sold for $1 a bottle. Three bottles for $2.50 at Wolcott's Drug Store.

THE JUDGE WAS WAITING FOR IT

Court At Muncie Prepared for Motion.

CHANGE OF VENUE GRANTED

When Motion of the Defense in the Case of Dr. Ross, Charged With Murder, Was Heard, Judge Leffler Had a Neighboring Judge at Hand to Take His Place in Anticipation of Expected Movement on Part of the Defense—Both Sides Making Determined Fight For Jury.

Muncie, Ind., Oct. 12.—Judge Leffler of circuit court gave a surprise by producing at once Judge James S. Engle of the Randolph county circuit court, who immediately ascended the bench and ordered the trial to proceed when attorneys for Dr. Nelson B. Ross, a young physician who shot and killed Daniel Linder, a Muncie & Portland traction conductor, on Aug. 5, appeared in circuit court at the opening of the murder trial and made a motion for a change of judge. Judge Leffler had anticipated this motion by the lawyers for the defense and was prepared for it, Dr. Ross having alleged that Judge Leffler was prejudiced against him.

A special venire of seventy-five names had been drawn. At least two days will be required to obtain a jury. Another venire likely will be summoned, as both sides will make their fight on the selection of the jury.

Dr. Ross shot to death Daniel Linder, a traction conductor, while aboard Linder's car, east of Muncie, in a quarrel over the payment of 10 cents excess fare which Linder had demanded because Ross had not purchased a ticket. It is also charged that Ross shot at three other traction employees who had assisted in ejecting him from the car. Women passengers aboard the car, who on their knees, pleaded for the lives of other traction men, probably saved them from being killed. Ross, standing in the doorway of the car after the murder, shouted: "You all know he had knucks," and then disappeared into a woods nearby.

The car, with the conductor's body aboard, was rushed to this city, and a posse of officers in automobiles started in search of Ross. The physician was on his way to his office in a carriage when a policeman intercepted him and escorted him to police station. Self-defense will likely be his plea of defense.

MR. CRANE GETS HIS DISMISSAL

Talkative Diplomat Not To Knox's Liking.

CUT OUT OF FINE TRIP TO CHINA

After a Conference With the Head of the State Department, Charles R. Crane, Who Was Brought Back to Washington on Eve of Sailing to Take Up Chinese Mission, Receives the Intimation That His Resignation Is Deemed Desirable for the Good of the Public Service.

Washington, Oct. 13.—When Secretary of State Knox virtually forced Mr. Crane out of the diplomatic service, a practical ending to the incident involving allegations of indiscreet conduct against Charles R. Crane of Chicago, who was recently appointed American minister to China, came. Mr. Crane asked Mr. Knox to tender his resignation, but the latter declined to hand it to Mr. Knox, and instead notified President Taft by telegraph that it was at Mr. Taft's disposal. Realizing how the land lay, Mr. Crane sent his telegram to President Taft before he received a note from Mr. Knox saying that Mr. Crane's resignation would be accepted. While technically Mr. Crane is still the American minister to China, President Taft's acceptance of his resignation probably will be at hand today. In a statement given to the press which was issued after Secretary Knox had been in consultation with Henry M. Hoyt, the counselor of the state department, and Fred W. Carpenter, secretary to the president, Mr. Knox indicated that the sole cause for desiring to revoke Mr. Crane's commission was that the latter had been guilty of furnishing an indiscreet interview to a Chicago newspaper.

While denying that all the information contained in the newspaper article which Mr. Knox found objectionable was furnished by him, Mr. Crane declared that in his judgment what he did say to the newspaper was in accordance with the spirit of the president's wishes that he should talk freely. After receiving Mr. Knox's letter requesting his resignation and prior to issuing his statement this evening, Mr. Crane sent a note to the secretary of state in which he practically ignored Mr. Knox's suggestion.

While the only formal accusation made against Mr. Crane was that he had furnished certain information to a newspaper, which information the state department declares to be incorrect, there are certain circumstances in connection with the case which lead to the belief that Mr. Crane's downfall was due in a measure to other causes. In some of his speeches at luncheons and dinners, Mr. Crane made remarks that were regarded as extremely indiscreet in view of his official position. One of these remarks, contained in an address made by Mr. Crane at the dinner of the American Asiatic Society in New York last month, indicated a belief on Mr. Crane's part that he was not in accord with the "present hold-up policy" of the state department, to use Mr. Crane's own words. In the same speech he expressed great admiration for President Taft and intimated apparently in a semi-jocular way, that Mr. Taft was the only Republican in whose ability to handle the reins of government Mr. Crane had confidence.

Mr. Crane was a Democrat up to the time Mr. Taft ran for the presidency, and the cause of his conversion to Republicanism, so he indicated, was due to a feeling of personal admiration for Mr. Taft.

The President Says Nothing. Riverside, Cal., Oct. 13.—After spending eight days in California, President Taft left here late last night and is speeding across the Colorado desert. Today finds the chief executive in Arizona, his journey back to the east well under way. The president sent a long cipher message to Washington. It was declared on the president's train that any information on the position of Minister Crane must come from the state department, where the entire matter has been handled.

Japanese Are Gratified. Tokio, Oct. 13.—Little surprise was expressed by officials here at the news that Secretary Knox had determined to recall Charles R. Crane, minister-designate to China. Leading Japanese expressed gratification at the action of Secretary Knox, as it indicated a determination to discountenance prejudiced speeches and an unfriendly attitude on the part of officials in dealings with Japan.

BRAUNS FATTEN ON CREDULITY

Specious Devices for Healing The Sick.

MANY FELL FOR THEIR GAME

John F. and Kate Braun, Operating Institutions in Indiana and Illinois, Find Themselves in Uncle Sam's Bad Books, Having Been Deprived of Postal Facilities For the Furtherance of Their Designs Upon a Credulous People—Brauns Said to Be a Fugitive From Illinois Justice.

Washington, Oct. 13.—According to a statement made by the postoffice department, "mentopathy" and telepathy are new devices by which money is obtained from credulous people. The department, acting upon allegations in a report of its inspectors, has issued what is known as a "fraud order" against John F. Braun and Kate A. Braun, conducting the "Braun Institute of Mentopathy," "The Braun Health Institute," at Bloomington, Ill.; and the "Mo-Bo Herb Remedy company," and Manhattan Collection agency of Bloomington, Indianapolis and Greenfield, Ind.

Persons suffering from any conceivable disease were advised by circulars sent to them through the mails that they could certainly be cured by the Brauns through the use of "Mentopathy" and telepathy. The charge made by the Brauns was $5 a month for two "absent treatments" a day. The receipts of the various institutes conducted by the Brauns were discovered by postoffice inspectors to be large, as much as $100 a day being received by them in money orders at Bloomington alone.

The report to the postmaster general by the inspectors alleges that Braun was indicted by an Illinois grand jury for fraud in the conduct of his business and that he disappeared and is now a fugitive.

IMPORTANT DECISION

Indiana Supreme Court Settles Much Discussed Line Fence Law.

Indianapolis, Oct. 13.—In affirming a judgment for the cost of a partition fence separating two farms in Ohio county which had been built by order of the township trustee, the supreme court held that the statute is constitutional which authorizes half the cost of a partition fence to be assessed against an objecting land owner. Its validity had previously been upheld against attacks on the ground that it denied the equal protection of the laws, and that it authorized the appropriation of property without compensation.

To the further objection that the statute undertakes to confer judicial power on township trustees, the court answers that all the duties of a trustee in connection with building a partition fence are merely administrative. It also holds that upon the question whether the defendant's land was "inclosed by land to retain stock" he had the burden of proof, as the fact that land is not inclosed is an affirmative defense.

THE CALL OF THE WILD

An Illinois Hen Follows Her Quail Brood Into the Woods.

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 13.—A hen belonging on the farm of Charles Miller has abandoned all love for civilization and remains constantly in the woods with her brood of quail. Out of thirteen quail eggs the hen hatched a covey of eleven. Once when the birds were young the mother brought them to the Miller home for a visit, but they became frightened and returned to the woods and fields, refusing to be domesticated. The efforts of the fowl to civilize them being in vain, the hen returned with them and since has been leading a nomadic life.

Indiana's Biggest Pearl.

Evansville, Ind., Oct. 13.—An unidentified man who said he lived in Posey county, sold a fresh-water pearl to a jeweler of this city for $2,500. The pearl was taken from the Wabash river and resembles a small hen egg in size and shape.

Too Great a Strain on Heart. Evansville, Ind., Oct. 13.—Fred M. Jones, chauffeur, is dead at his home in this city from heart disease. It is said that his ailment was caused by his excessive riding in an automobile.

The Ford Trial Postponed. Bloomington, Ind., Oct. 13.—The third trial of Edward Ford for the double McCoy murder, has been continued on account of the illness of Mrs. Hawley, a witness for the prosecution.

It Inspires Talent

The Y. M. C. C. movement has called forth the exercise of much latent talent in Rushville. The Republican reproduced a few days ago a cartoon on the Y. M. C. C. movement. Today a poem from Clay Benedict of Rushville on the Y. M. C. C. work is given:

THE GREATER RUSHVILLE.
The merchants will be smiling at the progress they have made,
And the banks are overflowing with the money brought from trade,
For the lot sale is advancing; it is never, never still,
We will lift our mighty voices shouting gladly "Rushville Will!"
We have ceased all contemplation of the progress we have made.
We're not thinking of the times in past that we have been dismayed.
We'll be dazzled by the prospect of "Our Rushville" for a while.
But with faces toward the future we will learn to wear a smile.
The future's sun is shining on the factories, large and small,
And the man of acts are singing "Oh you Rushville big and tall!"
Cease that useless gazing backward, let the knockers cease their tune,
For old Rushville is advancing big and strong, now swift and soon:

Caring for Dependents

Reports show that the people of Indiana spent $3,341,454 last year to maintain unfortunates, says Dr. J. M. Hurty, secretary of the State Board of Health in a bulletin just issued. The average annual expenditure for this purpose has been over $3,500,000. Now the question arises, "Is it possible to prevent having so many unfortunates?" It certainly is possible. But how?

It is known that sickness causes poverty, chronic invalidism, mental incapacity, and quite all of the qualities which make unfortunates. Of course, other causes also create unfortunates. As for sickness, hygiene stands ready to reduce it materially. This science teaches that fully 80 per cent of all sickness endured is unnecessary.

The people should open their ears and minds to the truths of hygiene, and when these truths are understood then apply them practically to everyday life. For instance, 30 to 40 per cent of all orphans (unfortunates) are created by consumption. Consumption is a preventable disease and is curable in its beginning. Why then not prevent consumption and not permit it to slay mothers and fathers and thus make so many orphans. It is cheaper to prevent than to have or to cure. So money is to be made by practically applying hygiene, besides gaining strength and happiness.

The effort of the State Board to save life, to save money and to promote happiness through practical hygiene, are frequently laughed at, and the Board called cranks. If this ignorant attitude were abandoned, and a desire to know, to understand, and to be practical in this matter were substituted, then incalculable advantages would be gained.

As a South Jersey country physician was driving through a village he saw a man amusing a crowd with the antics of his trick dog. The doctor pulled up and said: "My dear man, how do you manage to train your dog in that way? I can't teach mine a single trick." The man looked up, with a simple rustic look, and replied: "Well, you see, it's this way; you have to know more'n the dog, or you can't learn him nothin'."

and said he expected to ask at least one favor of them and that was to vote for him at the election. He predicted that if every man in the convention went out and did his duty there would be little hope for anybody but Republican candidates. Huston Aultman and S. G. Gregg, the defeated candidates, said they would work hard for the ticket and expressed their appreciation of the support they had received.

Martin V. Spivey was chosen for city treasurer on the first ballot. The vote:

	S.	M.
First Ward	7	17
Second Ward	13	5
Third Ward	19	12
Totals	39	34

Mr. Spivey was called and said that he expected to do his part to see that the whole ticket is elected. Mr. Moor told the delegates there were no sore spots on him and that he was a better Republican than ever before.

Three names were voted on for councilmen-at-large the two receiving the highest number being declared the nominees. Fred Beale received 68 votes, Willard H. Amos, 42, and Robert Kennedy 33. Mr. Beale was not at the meeting and when informed that he had been nominated declined to make the race. Mr. Beale said he appreciated the honor which the Republicans had placed on him, but for business reasons he finds that it will be impossible for him to give the time to the work. He thinks the ticket is a strong one, however, and predicts that it will be elected.

The city committee held a meeting this morning and selected Dr. J. B. Kinsinger to make the race in Mr. Beale's place. Although the committee realizes that Mr. Beale would have made a strong race, they think they have put a man in his place who will receive just as many votes, and be elected. Dr. Kinsinger is well known and well liked in the city and he is a business man in all the word implies. The Republicans are happy to know that such a good man has been obtained in Mr. Beale's place.

The resolutions committee composed of A. C. Brown, Nathan Weeks and E. B. Thomas, reported the following resolutions which speak for themselves. The report was read by Mr. Thomas.

We, the Republicans of the city of Rushville, in convention assembled, hereby renew our pledge made four years ago, regarding the adoption of business methods in the administration of city affairs, and we challenge the most careful scrutiny of the business methods of Mayor Cowing, the city council and other city officials.

The interest of the taxpayer has been considered where politics formerly prevailed, and the result is that the city has received 100 cents of value for each dollar expended, and we hereby approve and endorse the present city administration for its economy and efficiency.

The following record speaks for itself and is one which every citizen of Rushville regardless of his political affiliation should endorse:

Outstanding obligations amounting to more than $11,000.00 which were inherited from the former Democratic administration have been paid; the water and light plant has been improved and increased to four times its former capacity; a sanitary sewer system eleven miles in length has been constructed for the present and future needs of the city at the lowest possible cost, and without a single serious complaint, and no litigation; what threatened to be a disastrous epidemic of smallpox was stamped out quickly and effectively without the loss of a single life, and in this work the city sustained an unexpected expenditure of more than $7000.00.

In addition to all this the current expenses of the city have been met, and the bonding indebtedness has been paid as it matured, and at the same time the taxes for city purposes have been reduced from $1.20 on the hundred dollars, under the last year of the Democratic administration, to $1.00, the rate levied this year.

We pledge the nominees of this convention to a continuance of these business methods in all public affairs. We favor the needed construction of public improvements as rapidly as financial conditions of the city will justify, and record it to be our purpose that all such expenditures shall be economically made. We favor the enforcement of law, to the end that order may be maintained, and that our city may continue to be a model of thrift, intelligence and morality.
